Boy Scout Troop 424 Welcomes Six Eagle Scouts

William Spradley is a senior at Taylor High School. Spradley designed and built three wooden benches for the Krause Children's Center in Katy for his Eagle service project.

Brian Bowden is a senior at Cinco Ranch High School. For his Eagle scout project, Bowden worked at the Katy ISD Outdoor Learning Center, building four new park benches for the fishing pond area.

Ryan Napitupulu painted his church's prayer room and built a book shelf for the children's department for his Eagle service project. Napitupulu is currently a senior at Morton Ranch.

Brandon Joe completed his Eagle service project for Epiphany of the Lord by installing shelving that would be used to hold perishable food items in St. Vincent De Paul's food pantry.

Joseph Ritz has served as Quartermaster of the troop as well as Troop Guide of several different patrols. Ritz built 10 gates for horse feeding pens for SIRE for his Eagle project.

Andrew Donald, born in Warwick, England, has served in many leadership roles. He worked with Citizens for Animal Protection to design and build six dog houses.

Girl Scouts Receive Innovative Solutions Award

West FIRST LEGO League (FLL) Robotics Team competed in the Nature's Fury Houston Championship Qualifier Tournament held at Cinco Ranch Junior High. The team, only one of 60 FLL teams from across the state, earned the Innovative Solutions Award.

Troop 557 Announces Seven New Eagle Scouts

Boy Scout Troop 557 of the Texas Skies District proudly announced the seven latest scouts to achieve their Eagle Scout Award: Aaron Murray, Aiden Burke, Ashton Rocker, Colby Leal, Cory Christoffersen, John Liner, and Tony Steinbrecher. This award is the highest achievement in Boy Scouts.

Girl Scout Cookie App

Girl Scouts are now able to monitor their business with COCOMobile, an iOS app allowing Girl Scouts to track their sales and monitor goals. COCODirect, which allows customers to order, purchase and ship cookies in bulk, is said to be the future of the Girl Scout cookie program.

Eagle Scout Crew 1065

Aaron Lerro, a member of Crew 1065, has earned the Eagle Scout award. Lerro completed his service project at the Stephen F. Austin State Park headquarters. He is a senior at Morton Ranch High School.
