

Lady CAVES

Katy women carve out a space of their own with these in-home retreats

Written by Kirsten Cornell

Serene Space

This ultra-feminine bedroom has a simplistic yet ultimately chic style. Anchored by the modernized version of a sleigh bed and gold-accented furniture and accessories, it is the equivalent of what you might expect to find in a hotel high rise in Manhattan. The sleek writing desk and plush white carpeting add to the elegance. Pull the look together with a vintage-finish chandelier for lighting.

Beautiful Boutique

Ask most any lady and she'll agree closets can be an official getaway, especially one that's designed to look like a mini-boutique. When transforming your walk-in closet into a bonafide lady cave, you want to be sure to include a built-in island for displaying jewelry and storing folded clothes, mirrors, great lighting, a makeup vanity, and of course, an area to display shoes.

Nesting Place

The mirrored furniture with its scalloped detail is both feminine and functional. File away your design magazines and craft supplies in a white wash cabinet. Think outside the typical storage bin, and opt for linen-covered containers for items like photos, letters, or cards you want to organize.

Creative Nook

Your space is yours to do what you love. A place that is all work and no play is just not fun. So incorporate your favorite hobbies, interests, and activities into the design. Not able to use bright teal and hot pink anywhere else in the house? Incorporate that color scheme in your cave!
